

AA Degree	A degree program offered by community colleges, consisting of about 60 credit hours, usually transfers to a four-year institution as part of the core curriculum
AAS Degree	Associate of Applied Science degree offered by community colleges that usually does not contain as many core courses as an AA and is not designed for transfer, but is intended for students who will enter the workforce after graduation
AAT Degree	Associate of Arts in Teaching degree that can be earned at community colleges to transfer to four-year education programs
Academic Map	Semester-by-semester list of classes students should take for their major to complete their degree
Administrative Withdrawal	Removing students from a course in which they do not attend or stop participating for at least two consecutive weeks, or they miss at least 15% of the coursework
Advisor	To find who your assigned advisor is, go to the Student tab in MyJeffco, and click on Advisor/Major.
AFA Degree	Associate of Fine Arts degree that can be earned at a community college to transfer to four-year fine arts programs
AS Degree	Associate of Science degree is designed for engineering students to transfer to a university as part of a bachelor's degree
Blackboard	The College's Learning Management System (LMS) used by both online courses and on-campus courses
Career Path	The academic path (studied) for a particular career or profession

Exit Exam	As part of graduation requirements, students must take an exit exam. It is a no pass/no fail exam. Results help the college make improvement with regard to student learning.
FERPA	A federal law that regulates the communication and dissemination of your educational records
Grade Point Average	Each earned grade is awarded grade points that are multiplied by the number of credit hours taken; dividing

